WELCOME!

This is the homepage of Harita Meenee, independent scholar of the classical world and researcher in women's studies. The website aims at offering well-documented information on a variety of topics which the author has researched, such as the following:

- ancient Greece and other pre-Christian cultures

- myths and religious traditions

- symbols and archetypes

- women's roles and achievements through the centuries.

You will also find samples of the author's translations of ancient Hellenic hymns and poems, as well as information about her books and seminars. This is a bilingual site, in which both English and Greek texts are available.

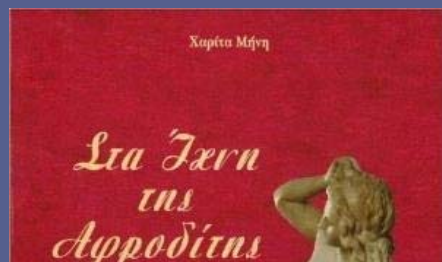

The webpage is being regularly updated. Please visit again soon!

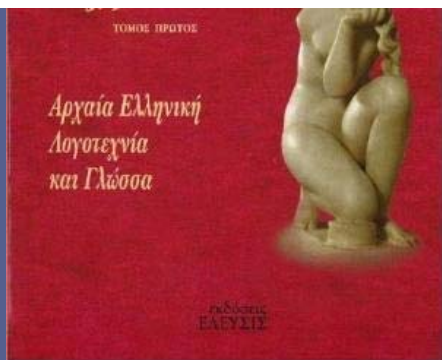

In order to read the texts more comfortably, you may want to increase the size of the letters. If you are using Mozilla Firefox, click on "View" and then on "Text Size" and choose "Increase." If you repeat this process, the letters will appear even larger.

TO CONTACT HARITA MEENEE PLEASE SEND AN E-MAIL
